1. Intellectual Property – Consent and release form

I, the undersigned, have read, understand and agree to abide by the rules governing the event (as set out in the event rules) and certify that all information contained in this completed entry form is true and accurate. I understand and agree that my project will be saved in digital format, and that it could appear in special products developed by Statistics Canada. The project could also be made available to partners present during the event. By signing this entry form, I irrevocably grant the event organizers the right and permission to:

(1) publicly disclose and use my name, and school of enrollment, for promotional or other purposes, without compensation; and

(2) copy, modify, publish without any restrictions and use my project, as a result of the event, in whole or in part, without compensation.

The project will be originally and lawfully created by me and/or my team and the use, modification, publication or reproduction of the project by the event organizers will not give rise to any third party claims for infringement or violation of copyright, trademark or any other right of any third party, or to any third party claims including libel, defamation, violation of privacy or contract breach. I will obtain all necessary permissions, consents, licenses, or other approvals of third parties necessary or appropriate for the preparation or use of the project and such approvals will be enclosed. I release the event organizers from any liability in connection with my participation in this event, or the preparation or use of my or my team's project and agree to indemnify the event organizers for any liability and all reasonable costs arising from any third party action, claim or proceeding commenced against the event organizers because of the project.

2. Rules and Code of Conduct

CANDEV Rules

- Participants must be at least 18 years of age and must be enrolled at an accredited Canadian post-secondary institution.
- All registered team members should be present at the event.
- Teams are allowed to use free libraries, frameworks or open-source code in their projects. If your team does utilize such resources, please indicate so in your comments or documentation. Bringing an already working prototype for the purpose of displaying it and using it for CANDEV is not allowed.
- All work on the user stories should be done at CANDEV. You are not allowed to start your project before the data challenge. However, appropriate planning and setup is encouraged.
- Teams must stop working on their projects after submission is complete (Sunday at 12:00pm, October 21, 2018).
- Participants must follow all University of Ottawa regulations.
- Participants and projects that violate the Code of Conduct are not permitted
- Teams can be disqualified from CANDEV at the discretion of the CANDEV team. Reasons for disqualification include but are not limited to breaking CANDEV rules, breaking the Code of Conduct, or other unsportsmanlike behaviour.

CANDEV Code of Conduct

- Students should conduct themselves professionally, respectfully and with integrity during the challenge.
- Students should not engage in any verbal or physical behaviour that stigmatizes or victimizes an individual on the basis of race, colour, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, religion or disability.
- Students should not engage in any behaviour that threatens or harms any individual involved in the CANDEV Data Challenge.
- All decisions made by the judges are final; students should not approach the judges with questions, comments or concerns about the judging process, feedback or scoring of teams. Students can direct any questions, comments and concerns to: statcan.candev-candev.statcan@canada.ca where an organizer will address them.
- Statistics Canada is not responsible for any loss, damage, theft or destruction of the property of the participant and shall not be liable for any actions of the participant.

The participant is to be held responsible for damage, injury (or death) or loss to persons or to the University of Ottawa's facility, premises or to equipment caused by the participant. The participant is responsible for the cost of repair or replacement of the University of Ottawa's property lost, stolen, damaged, destroyed or defaced by the participant.
